

PCE Literature - an Innovative Internet Project, 2014
Presentation at the PCE Symposium Prague 2014
Proposed by PCE-Europe and Charles University in Prague
April, 25th-27th 2014

Robert Waldl (Austria): PCE Literature - an Innovative Internet Project

In 2009 two person-centered organizations in Austria (Forum and ÖGwG) started to establish a database for person-centered and experiential literature. 2013 the German GWG joined this cooperative project. The database is accessible via Internet. It comprises more than 10.000 references to support the scientific work. Most of the publications are in German or English, but publications in French, Spanish, Russian, Hungarian, Greek and Japanese are included as well.

In the lecture the new webpage of www.pce-literature.org will be presented. Learn how to use the database, by searching via keywords, author, title, date of publication a.o.m. See how the search results can easily be used with bibliographic software, automatically formatted according to the rules of common citation styles (APA, Chicago Manual of Style, and MLA) and transferred to useful data formats.

This database is continuous work in progress. The important next steps of the project will be presented and can be discussed.

Robert Waldl, MA., Ph.D., is a person-centered psychotherapist and trainer of the Forum. He works as supervisor, coach and consultant in private practice in Vienna.